SIERRA® ANTIFREEZE/COOLANT

Performance Characteristics:

SIERRA Antifreeze/Coolant demonstrates outstanding corrosion prevention performance in all standard industry tests. Meets all the requirements of ASTM D5216 (Propylene Glycol Base Engine Coolant) and the corrosion prevention requirements of ASTM D3306, ASTM D4985, GM 1899, and GM 1825 including ASTM D1384 (Glassware Corrosion), ASTM D4340 (Hot Surface Aluminum Corrosion), ASTM D2570 (Simulated Service) and ASTM D2809 (Cavitation Erosion Corrosion - Aluminum Pumps).

Provides Excellent Engine Protection In Four Key Areas:

- Freeze-Up Protection
- Corrosion Protection
- Boil-Over Protection
- Heat Transfer

SIERRA Antifreeze/Coolant provides outstanding protection against boil-overs and freeze-up damage. (See chart below.)

SIERRA® ANTIFREEZE	Water	Protects Against Freeze-Ups Down To	Protects Against Boil-Overs Up To*
50%	50%	-26°F	256°F
60%	40%	-54°F	261°F
66%	34%	-76°F	262°F

*Closed System; 15 psi cap

Safety and Toxicity Information:

SIERRA Antifreeze/Coolant is formulated with propylene glycol rather than conventional ethylene glycol - the base used for traditional antifreeze. While attaining performance characteristics comparable to ethylene glycol based antifreeze, SIERRA Antifreeze/Coolant provides additional benefits. SIERRA Antifreeze/Coolant's propylene glycol formula is less toxic and therefore safer than ethylene glycol coolants. This provides safety to children, pets and wildlife exposed to antifreeze leakage.
